A hidden treasure under the sea reunites ex-lovers desperate to save the ones they value most in Kaylin McFarren's award-winning romantic suspense novel, Severed Threads.

Believing herself responsible for her father's fatal diving accident, Rachel Lyons has withdrawn from the world and assumed a safe position at a foundation office. When called upon by a museum director to assist Trident Ventures with the recovery of a priceless relic from a sunken Chinese merchant ship, she has no intention of cooperating - especially after discovering her former love interest is involved. But Rachel soon realizes she has no choice when a drug-dealing gangster kidnaps her brother and demands two million dollars for his safe return. In order to rescue him and gain control over her life, she must not only overcome her greatest fears, but also steal the Heart of the Dragon out from under Chase Cohen - the same cursed relic that is holding the museum director's life in peril.

With three lives now on the line, including her own, Rachel must relive the circumstances that lead to her father's death. Will she gain Chase's trust and recover the Mai Le treasure in time or will they both die trying?

From the Author

Ultimately, when the last words are typed, not only are the stories in my Threads series focused on historical facts, informative data and thrilling adventures, they are designed to reach into your heart and leave an indelible impression -- an encouraging message, reminding readers that they can overcome any obstacle in their lives if they just have the courage to try.

From the Inside Flap

I've often been asked, "What inspires you to write?" Most authors have a pat response. It might be the people they've known, their experiences, books they've read over the years, a favorite movie, or their desire to live in another time and place - a romantic, undaunted, and unpretentious era. For me, oddly enough, stories develop in the recesses of my mind, becoming a pageant of dreams, often reoccurring like a weekly series on television. I find I'm compelled to write because my brain keeps me up at night with possibilities. Unfortunately, there isn't an on and off switch. Once I have a story in my head, I'm completely consumed. This might sound egotistic and self-promoting, but if I don't put it on paper or on my computer, I'm convinced I'll be haunted by the failed opportunity to impact other people's lives - to produce insight into resolving broken relationships and damaged emotions. However, by no means does this qualify or allow me to advise and counsel the general public. There are accomplished specialists trained to address those specific needs. My purpose is simply to entertain and to open the mind's eye, allowing a frosted view inside the average woman's thought process. I've simply been given the gift of a vivid imagination, taking me on journeys better shared with good company.

So with that in mind, this one's for you, baby - the man who's always in my corner, never letting a day go by without reminding me how much I'm loved.
