The Effects of Trauma and How to Deal With It By Jim Banks

The following book describes a prayer tool that I stumbled across in late 2009 by putting pieces of the teachings of three of God's faithful servants together and adding a couple of others steps. The power of it to virtually eliminate many of the symptoms that victims of trauma complain of has proven to be nothing short of miraculous. Over the last 25 years of praying for physical and emotional healing, I have prayed numerous prayers that (at least in my estimation) availed little. But the last 400 or 500 folks, or so, that I have ministered this over have experienced relief that has been both instantaneous, and up to this point, permanent. I am also happy to report that the recipients have experienced some significant results after having been prayed over in groups of 25 to 175 persons.

Editorial Review

About the Author

Jim Banks was trained in electrical engineering and started his illustrious career as an electrical design engineer for a Houston based consulting engineering house, only to find that he didn't like engineering very much. After a couple of years, he moved into technical sales to take advantage of his education. There he rose to sales and marketing director for several major manufacturers. The first of which was in Houston where he met and married Patricia, who was a trainer for Southwestern Bell. Life often takes a number of awkward turns, as it did for Jim and Pat. Despite how they were employed, they continued to minister in prayer to the hurting on nights and weekends free of charge. They made the shift into full time ministry nine years ago with a move to Asheville, NC where they founded and presently operate House of Healing Ministries, a ministry to broken hearted individuals, but perhaps more importantly, an equipping ministry for the Body of Christ to allow a portion of it to become the compassionate healers they were always meant to be.
