Editorial Review

Review

This is a collection that will cause souls to be searched and minds to be expanded. Its diamond-sharp words cut through more facile platitudes to a deeper understanding of what it means to be human, living on the continent now known as North America, and alive in these astounding and troubled times. --Rev. Leslie Takahashi Morris, co-minister, Mt. Diablo Unitarian Universalist Church

Encounters weaves an anguished but hopeful path through core issues confronting our society. Paula Cole Jones has discovered joys and sorrows dredged from the depths of poets' souls. Their words are the clarion call that cannot be ignored and will haunt the reader with its insights. --José Ballester, minister, The Religious Society of Bell Street Chapel

Our current culture of sound-bite argument, racial profiling and echo-chamber journalism take us further and further away from the ideals on which our country was founded. Encounters brings together strong voices with clear visions and moves us closer to starting that long-awaited conversation. --LouAnn Muhm, author, Breaking the Glass

About the Author

Paula Cole Jones is the founder of ADORE (A Dialogue on Race & Ethnicity) and a former president of DRUUMM (Diverse and Revolutionary Unitarian Universalist Multicultural Ministries).
